RIOT AT LEADVILLE STILL ALARMING

COLORADO MILITA HAS THE UPPER HAND.

Miners Positively Identified as the Ones Who Used Dynamite in the Attack On the Colorado and Emmett Mines. —Five Lives Were Lost in the Fight.

Leadville, Colo., Sept. 22.—Five dead bodies lying at the morgue, and half a dozen wounded, with damage to property to the amount of $25,000 are the visible effects of Sunday night's lawlessness. It is believed that when all is known the list of dead and injured will considerably exceed these figures. Everything is quiet now, the camp being practically under military rule.

The fifth name was added to the death list by the discovery of the body of Michael Daugherty on the ground near the Emmett mine, where he had fallen in the attack of the rioters upon the Emmett while flushed with their victory at the Coronado. There were many people in the upper windows, and on house roofs provided with night glasses, who, in the brilliant moonlight, saw the attack on the Emmett and the repulse of the rioters. These watchers say the first volley from the mine was delivered at close range, and that the attacking party fell like grain before the sickle. How many met the fate of Daugherty it may remain for the search of a long abandoned shaft in that vicinity to tell. It now seems that the rioters dragged away their dead and wounded.

The following are the dead so far as known:

MICHAEL DAUGHERTY.
BERT MEIER.
JAMES BENSON.
JOHN MAHONEY, died this afternoon.

They were miners employed at the Coronado, and were killed by the explosion. They were identified only by means of papers found on the bodies.

Dying:

WILLIAM O'KEEFE, foreman of hose company No. 2; shot through the stomach.

J. HIGGINS, miner employed at the Coronado; shot eight times in arms and stomach.

Injured:

Frank Telle.
Martin Scott.

Both were Coronado miners. Their wounds are not believed to be fatal.

The Coronado people had heard of the coming of trouble, but the supposition was that the attack was to be made at the Emmett. Soon after the destruction commenced many of the citizens responded quickly, armed with rifles and shotguns, but they could do little in fighting the fire and dynamite. Foreman O'Keefe was shot from behind just after he turned a stream on the fire at the Coronado. The first attack at the Coronado was made with dynamite near the oil tanks. The men within the inclosure returned the attack and a fusilade of bullets followed but the dynamite did its work well.

It is charged that the lawlessness Sunday was due to a mob of strikers, principally from the Coeur d'Alene country, who have long been breeding trouble in Leadville, and who, seeing that the strike was nearing an end, were determined to make a final stroke. This assertion is largely made by the peaceful miners of the camp. Early Sunday night there was every evidence that the strike was broken. Many miners had announced their intention of going to work in the morning. After being repulsed at the Emmett mine, the mob, which numbered not over fifty persons, fled the town, and are hiding in the hills.

Denver, Col., Sept. 22.—Gov. McIntyre Monday morning received the following letter from the sheriff at Leadville:

"Leadville, Col., Sept. 21., 3 a. m.—Gov. McIntyre, Denver: The situation here is beyond my control. I am compelled to call on you for aid to preserve order, and hereby do so. All are of the present opinion that a strong force is needed.

"M. H. NEWMAN, Sheriff."

The governor at once ordered out a strong force of militia. The Denver & Rio Grande officials took extraordinary precautions to prevent the wrecking of trains carrying troops to Leadville. Guards were sent out and the entire road from Salida to Leadville was patrolled and picketed. Three special trains were dispatched from Denver carrying soldiers and supplies. The troops are under command of Brig-Gen. Brooks, and Adjt.-Gen. Moses accompanied them.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Mr. Coffin,

Washington, Sept. 23.—Mr. Coffin, acting comptroller of the currency received a telegram from the presidents of two national banks in Leadville, Col., saying:

"This city is threatened by an armed mob. A battle took place Sunday night attended by fire, destroying valuable property, and four men were killed. We do not consider it safe to open the banks until order is restored, which we hope will be the case soon, as the national guard is expected here at once."

IN ANNUAL SESSION.

Odd Fellows' Grand Lodge Convenes at Dallas, Tex.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 22.—The seventy-second annual session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, the delegates to which represent more than a million brethren and have jurisdiction over the order throughout the world, opened auspiciously Monday. The city is gayly decorated and thronged with members of the order, many of whom have brought with them their families. Ten o'clock was the hour fixed for the opening reception at the opera house, but an hour earlier the spacious structure was filled to overflowing. On the platform, in addition to the grand officers, were seated five Odd Fellows who sat in the grand lodge with Judge Wildy, one of the founders of the order; and as the veterans made their appearance one by one they were given a tumultous reception.

Following the public exercises the seventy-second annual session of the sovereign grand lodge was called to order at Turner Hall by Grand Sire Stebbins.

The annual communication of C. E. W. Stebbins, grand sire and commander-in-chief of the Odd Fellows, in part was as follows:

"The condition of the business interests and the prospective disturbances in this and other countries have had their effect upon the order. Yet, under the surrounding conditions, our growth has not been seriously retarded. The additions to the order have been fairly good and in all branches prosperity has prevailed to an unlooked-for extent. In the subordinate lodges the net gain has been 9,190. In the subencampments there has been a net loss of 1,636.

In the Patriarch Militant branch there has been a large increase, the aggregate of which cannot be given with accuracy owing to delays in making returns.

In the Rebekah branch the growth has been phenomenal, there being a net increase in membership of 27,854. This is in no inconsiderable degree attributed and traceable to the opening of the door to all unmarried ladies of good moral character.

In the departments of homes for the aged, the widow and orphan—that grandest field of all our labors—reports were received of homes established or in process of establishment, in seventeen grand jurisdictions, as follows: Number, 17; acreage, 3.739.14; cost, $269,462.34; present value, $682,727.01; indebtedness, $16,000; residents—males, 92; wives, 9; widows, 8, and orphans, 198.

Our financial condition, which has always been of the best, cannot be too carefully guarded against encroachment. The valuable suggestions cannot be too carefully weighed. And if in connection with them the question of supplies, the chief source of our revenue, shall be clearly defined and the order informed, no direct taxation to sustain the increasing expenses of our rapidly developing order need be feared.

At the conclusion of Grand Sire Stebbins' address an adjournment was taken.

Stump from Which the Republican Presidential Candidate Will Deliver Speeches at Canton.—Civil War Veterans Speak for Gold at Chicago —Sound Money Men are Confident.

Canton, O., Sept. 22.—Major McKinley received by express Monday a finely polished and embellished stump of a tree. It is intended for use in delivering his front-porch addresses and is a convenient height for that purpose. The stump was sent by Jesse C. Grover, sheriff of Knox county, Knoxville, Tenn.

Major McKinley was kept busy in his library all day Monday. There were no organized delegations to see him, but a large number of individual callers.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—It was warrior's night at the Auditorium Monday, and 6,000 people crowded into the great amphitheater to listen to the oratory of the old soldiers who came to espouse the cause of McKinley, gold and republicanism. The meeting was known as the "veterans' ratification," and was under the auspices of the Veteran Union league of Chicago. This organization had invited a distinguished company of old soldiers to address the assembled guests, and such men as Maj.-Gens. Oliver O. Howard, Russell A. Alger, Daniel E. Sickles and Thomas J. Stewart were the speakers. So also was Corporal James Tanner.

To Concentrate Forces.

New York, Sept. 22.—A very important meeting of the executive committee of the republican national committee will be held at headquarters as soon as Chairman Hanna arrives from the west. Where the main fight for the ticket is to be made will be the principal subject of consideration at the meeting of the executive committee. If Mr. Hanna reports that the middle western states are going to be close or doubtful, they will be the battle ground from now until November. If his information indicates that these states are safe then the committee will make a determined effort in the south.

CANDIDATE BRYAN AT DOVER AND WILMINGTON.

No Dimuniation in the Enthusiasm of the Crowds That Flock to His Meetings—Gov. Altgeld Speaks at Freeport, Ill. But Doesn't Answer Forman.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 22.—Presidential Candidate William Jennings Bryan had a triumphant march through Delaware Monday. His visit was the first ever paid by any presidential candidate to the good people of the Little Diamond state, and they received him with outstretched arms and enthusiasm such as has never marked the reception of a public man before in the history of the state.

At all the way stations from Porters to Middletown he stood on the back platform of his car and nodded his head in respectful recognition of the cheers and flaunting handkerchiefs by women and children gathered on the platforms. At Middletown more than 1,000 persons greeted him. They insisted upon a speech, but he told them he must save his voice. In turn he requested them all to make a speech for free silver on Nov. 3. At Townsend and Clayton the demonstrations in his honor were marked with much enthusiasm, and at Dover the climax of his triumphant march was reached. In the afternoon he delivered an address to an audience of 10,000, mostly farmers, at the Kent county fair, just outside of Dover.

On his return from Dover Mr. Bryan stopped at New Castle, six miles from here, to address the people of that quaint little town. As he stepped from his car to the platform, thirteen little school girls dressed in white and carrying trays of roses, preceded him up the platform, and scattered thirteen roses, representing the thirteen original states, in his path.

He spoke half an hour at New Castle and then came back to Wilmington. His reception here was something tremendous. Long before he had finished his dinner the Clayton house, at which he is stopping, was besieged by an army of 2,000, who clamored for him to show himself. At length he did appear and the crowd cheered vociferously. Women rushed toward him to shake his hands and some of them even grabbed his foot as he stepped into his carriage. All along the route from the hotel to the Auditorium, where Mr. Bryan spoke at night, he received a tremendous ovation. A brilliant pyrotechnic display was given in his honor by the Young Men's Democratic club. At the Auditorium fully 20,000 people were assembled to greet him, but owing to the limited capacity of the theater only 5,000 were admitted.

Lease Must Be Renewed or the Club Will Look to the State or to the Fair Association For Big Damages. —Mystery in Kenosha Over a Woman's Death.

Milwaukee, Sept. 22—When the legislature takes up the business affairs of the Wisconsin State Agricultural society next winter, there will be several little surprises. There is also quite liable to be more or less objection to carrying out the binding agreement which the State Park Jockey club has with the society, for he society, state or somebody else will find a bill of about fifty thousand dollars, which the racing people will expect to have paid within the next two years or a renewal of its lease. There is no doubt about the fact that the racing association has placed the grounds in better condition than they were when the lease was made. The improvements include a commodious betting shed, herein Milwaukee an Chicago people have lost their money with considerable regularity. Secretary Fleming knew of the concession made to the jockey club in the lease, and is being criticised for it.

Great enthusiasm marked the organization of the club.

NORTH JOHNSTOWN NEWS NOTES

People From That Vicinity Thought the Fair a Great Success.

North Johnstown Sept. 21—A number from this place attended the Rock county fair last week and pronounce it the best for many years. There was a good showing in the different departments and had the weather been more favorable it would have insured still greater success. There was no confusion, no drunkenness, no rioting and no arrests as we have been able to learn, due to the absence of intoxicating liquor from the ground. Grandma Hassinger and George Hassinger and children visited at C. B. Palmer's last week. Politics and the money question seems to be uppermost in the minds of the people as discussions are frequent. The sick ones are all improving. Remember the W. C. T. U. meeting at the parsonage, Thursday. Mrs. Frank Wheeler of Whitewater, spent Sunday at Leon Dickenson's. Miss Grace Killam has been spending a week at the home of her parents. A fine baby boy is a recent addition to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Westrick. Fred and Minerva Church of Milton Junction, spent Sunday with friends here. Miss Edith Dickenson has gone to Koshkonong for a few weeks' stay at C Marquart's. Samuel Hull and son George left last week for Missouri to visit the family of Mr. Hull's oldest son, Edson.

OLD RESIDENT OF MILTON DEAD

E. B. Rogers Passes Away at the College Village—Other News Notes.

Milton, Sept. 22—E. B. Rogers, who has been failing slowly for some weeks, died Sunday night. Mr. Rogers was one of the early settlers of Milton, and retired from his farm, south of Milton Junction, many years ago, since which time he has resided in this village. He was for several years chairman of the board of supervisors, and at the time of his death was president of the board of trustees of Milton college, a position which he has held for years. Mr. Rogers was a man of sterling qualities and no one in the community stood higher, both as a neighbor and a citizen than he. His death leaves a vacancy in the village that no surviving citizen can fill. His aged wife and son, Dr. Fred D. Rogers, of Chicago, who was with his father at his last hours, have the sympathy of a large circle of relatives and friends. The funeral arrangements have not been perfected at the time we write. Frank Root, of Clinton, has been in town this week packing up his house hold goods, preparatory to moving. Sleep

Induced by the use of coca, opiate or narcotic compounds is bad, decidedly bad. It undermines the health and shatters the constitution and the patient is steadily growing into a worse condition—often resulting in the terrible slavery and misery of the cocaine and opium habit. Sleep induced by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla may not come as quickly, but it comes more surely, permanently and is

Sweet

And refreshing because it is realized through nature's great restoring and rejuvenating channel—purified, vitalized and enriched blood. This feeds the nerves with life-giving energy and builds up the system and constitution from the very foundation of all health and life—the blood—pure, rich, red blood.

Refreshing

"I was generally run down last spring, appetite was poor and I could not sleep. Hood's Sarsaparilla built me right up, gave good appetite and I was soon able to get a good night's rest." G. F. WHITNEY, Merchant, Yeomans St., Ionia, Michigan.

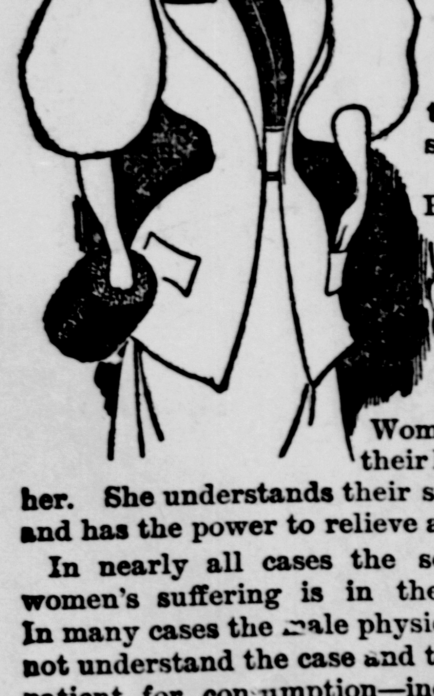
HESITATE NO LONGER.

Modesty in women is natural. It is one of women's chief charms.

No one cares for one who really lacks this essential to womanliness.



Women have suffered fearfully because of over-sensitiveness in this direction. They couldn't say to the physician what they ought to say to someone. Mrs. Pinkham has received the confidence of thousands. Women open their hearts to her. She understands their suffering, and has the power to relieve and cure.

In nearly all cases the source of women's suffering is in the womb. In many cases the male physician does not understand the case and treats the patient for consumption—indigestion—anything but the right thing.

It is under such circumstances that thousands of women have turned to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and opened their heart and lives—woman to woman—and received her help.

You ask how she can tell if the doctor cannot? Because no man living ever treated so many cases and possesses such vast experience.

Displacement, inflammation, torpid action, stagnation, sends to all parts of the body the pains that crush you.

Lydia E. Pinkham's "Vegetable Compound" is the sure cure for this trouble. For twenty years it has done its grand work and cured thousands.

Advertising what you have not got or what you don't do is worse than not advertising at all. You can't well be too careful about this. Make your ads. strictly true in letter and in spirit. I believe that the majority of business men do this now, but as it is the most important thing about advertising, it will bear repeating and reiterating.

A CALCULATING SPIRIT.

A Man Who Will Some Day Be a Great Mathematician.

A reporter was hurrying along toward the office one of those mornings not long ago when the temperature was about 42 deg. colder at 8 o'clock than it is on the average summer morning in Washington, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding, when he was met at an intersecting street by one of those government scientists who have a good time at the Smithsonian stuffing birds, animals and reporters at so much a stuff.

"How d'y?" said the scientist, falling in and catching step with the reporter after the manner of most methodical and calculating people.

"The same, thanks. How do you find yourself?" responded the reporter, who had a firm belief that what the English language needs is a proper form of salutation that means something.

"I've been noticing as I came along this morning," said the scientist, "that every man's trousers seem to be too short for him."

The reporter stuck out his leg.

"I've noticed that on myself as well," he said. "It is due, I presume, to the colder air making the material dry and contracting it."

"You are quite right," assented the scientist in a tone of admiration and surprise, indicating that the reporter knew more than the scientist had ever suspected during their previous acquaintance. "And did it ever occur to you," he continued, pretty much in the manner of a professor before his class, "what this shrinkage means?"

"Nothing further than that a man has to let out a reef or two in his suspenders or his trousers will flap around his shoe tops like idle sails in a summer breeze."

The scientist became admiring again.

"Quite true," he said, "but there is a greater meaning than this, a widespread one. Let us suppose, for instance, that there are in Washington 70,000 pairs of trousers in use and a stock—"

"Very well—there are, let us say, 100,000 pairs of trousers in Washington, each pair of which shrinks, in such a change of weather as we have had, three-quarters of an inch in each leg, or an inch and a half a pair. That will make a total shrinkage in the 100,000 pairs of 150,000 inches, equal to 4,166 2-3 yards, which at an average value of $1.50 a yard amounts to $6,249, more or less. Now, did it ever occur to you where the shinkage went and what became of the $6,249 it represented in value? If you will—"

Nobody knows to what extremes that scientist would have gone with his facts and figures, but just at this moment a fight and a fire alarm arose on the air in the next block and the reporter escaped.—Washington Star.

ISSUES AN ADDRESS.

Committee of the Gold Democracy Appeals to the People.

New York, Sept. 22.—An address to the gold democrats of the United States was given out Monday night at the headquarters of the gold democracy, 39 East Twenty-third street. The address is mainly a plea for financial support, and says:

"The campaign cannot be conducted without meetings, headquarters, publications, committees and all the legitimate details of political activity and education. To do this on the most modest plan requires, even for the critical states alone, a large sum of money. To contribute these expenses according to his means is the duty of every citizen, and especially of every democrat. Only six weeks remain until election day.

"The committee appeals to you for a subscription to be sent either to John P. Frenzel, treasurer, or to Charles J. Canda, chairman of the finance committee, at the national democratic headquarters, 39 East Twenty-third street, New York city."

Oppose Sunday Newspapers.

Tuscola, Ill., Sept. 22.—Three sessions of the Illinois Methodist conference were held Monday in order to finish the work and read the appointments today. Resolutions were adopted against the Sunday newspaper. In addition to the routine work the constitutional question of the eligibility of the election of women to the annual conference came up. On this question 202 voted in favor of the women and eighteen against. A vote was taken on the question of admitting laymen to the annual conference on the basis of one layman to every fourteen ministers and was lost by a vote of 145 against the measure.

Thacher May Be Withdrawn.

New York, Sept. 22.—John Boyd Thacher will in all probability be withdrawn from the head of the silver democratic state ticket. The state committee will meet tonight, and the expected result is the substitution of Wilbur F. Porter of Watertown, the present candidate for lieutenant governor, in Thacher's place.

Tammany leaders have decided to use every effort to have Mr. Thacher withdrawn and the twelve state committeemen of this city agreed to demand withdrawal of Mr. Thacher and to ask for the naming of Wilbur F. Porter.

Carlists Wait the Order to Rise.

Madrid, Sept. 22.—The Heraldo publishes another interview with Don Carlos, in which he is quoted as blaming the feebleness of Spain's dealings with the United States, and declaring that the situation is the same as that which preceded the revolution of 1868. Don Carlos is said to have remarked that the Carlists were completely organized, disciplined, and armed, and that they only await his word to rise against the government.

More Gold Coming.

New York, Sept. 22.—Further engagements of gold for import were made Monday in London, $1,000,000 being withdrawn from the Bank of England. The receipts of gold from Europe were $1,000,000. The Bank of British North America announced that the steamship Teutonic Wednesday will bring in $500,000 in gold.

"Bob" Fitzsimmons Arrested.

New York, Sept. 22.—Robert Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, has been arrested on an indictment found by the grand jury last week, accusing him of agreeing to engage in a prize fight with James J. Corbett. Fitzsimmons pleaded not guilty and was held in $1,000 bail.

Coffin Goes to the Penitentiary.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—Francis A. Coffin, found guilty of complicity in the wrecking of the Indianapolis National bank and refused a new trial by the United States supreme court, was on Monday taken to the penitentiary at Michigan City to serve out his sentence of eight years.

Italy Will Act.

Milan, Italy, Sept. 22.—The departure of the Italian flying squadron for the levant is the initiative step toward forcing Turkey to grant the reforms demanded in the case of Armenia, and that it is taken by Italy supported by the United States and Great Britain.

Mosquitoes and Kerosene.

Chestertown, Md., has found kerosene effective in getting rid of mosquitoes. "Some citizens," says a resident, "had experimented with coal oil as a remedy and were surprised at the effectiveness of the liquid. The attention of the authorities was called to the matter and after a series of tests the people were given official notice that everybody should pour a little coal oil in rainbarrels, stagnant pools and wherever water had collected. No great quantity of oil is required. A teaspoonful is sufficient for a barrel of water. The diminution in the number of mosquitoes was easily noticeable and now the pest has been almost gotten rid of."—New York Tribune.

The Reason.

"I wonder why," said Mrs. Noodle, as she stood looking in the glass, "the nose is put in the middle of the face."

Mr. Noodle laid down his paper.

"That's easy enough," he replied. "It's because it's the scenter piece."

And when Mrs. Noodle had had this explained to her she laughed and declared that it was just as funny as some of those things you read in the papers.—New York World.

Valuable Iron.

Thomas Morris, addressing the Staffordshire, England, iron and steel managers, mentioned having in his possession drawn wire worth $4.32 a pound, or more than $8,000 per ton. Hairspring wire is worth $400,000 per ton and the barbed wire used by dentists in tooth nerve extraction $2,150,000 per ton. The basic material of all is ordinary cheap ore.

ROCK COUNTY TAXED ON TWENTY MILLION

CLERK M'INTYRE'S SUMMARY OF THE FIGURES.

How Rock's Wealth is Divided Between Real Estate and Personal Property—Farming Property Assessed at $10,407,686—What the Tax Tables Show.

Nobody in Rock county owns any saw logs, or timbers, or telegragh poles. Neither does the assessment roll show anybody as owning a steamboat or other water craft.

In spite of all this the assessment roll shows Rock county's valuation tobe nearly twenty million of dollars.

The table prepared by County Clerk McIntyre in conformity to Section 1006 of the revised statutes is as follows:

Horses	15,972	$385,960
Neat cattle	37,829	441,219
Mules and asses	109	2,225
Sheep and lambs	17,540	23,408
Swine and lambs	24,298	76,618
Wagons, etc	9,157	125,407
Watches	2,060	23,444
Pianos, organs, etc	1,653	58,731

To these items must be added several important sums, in arriving at the value of Rock county personal property, viz:

Merchants' and manufacturers stock	$ 750,195
Average amount of money on deposit	145,545
Average amount of notes, bonds, mortgages, and other securities for debts due or to become due for each and every month during the year ending May 1, over and above the average amount of bona fide unconditional debts owing for each and every one of said months as determined under Section 1056 R. S	141,590
Grain and farm products	28,900
Household furniture in excess of $200	530
Bank stock	377,909
Leaf tobacco	4,852
Other personal proyerty	$1,134,936

This brings the total value of personal property, according to Clerk McIntyre's figures, up to $3,721,469.

The value of the 444,468 acres of farming land, is placed at $10,407,686.

City lots are valued at $5,709,153.

This gives a total for real and personal property of $19,838,308.

There are 401 wide tired wagons in the county, acording to the assessment rolls. When this number has been multiplied by ten there will be hope of better roads, and when roads are better farmers can draw twice as heavy loads with one team, and hired men can spend twice as much time sitting on the fence.

STOLEN SILK HANDED BACK.

Constable Cochrane Turns Over a Bundle Worth $11.07 to A. Reid & Co.

Constable Wallace Cochrane was ordered this morning by Justice M. P. Richardson, to return silks valued at $11.07, to Archie Reid & Co. Some time ago, John Arquette, who lives on Snipe Hill, found the silks stored away in his house, and informed Wallace Cochrane, who took possession of the goods. They proved to have been stolen from Reid & Co., but there seemed to be no way of getting direct evidence against the thieves.

MAHONEY IS NAMED FOR CONGRESSMAN

POPOCRATS REQUIRE BUT ONE BALLOT.

Claims of the Beloit Editor Receive Scanty Consideration—Gen. Bragg Will Speak to Janesville People on the Meaning of True Democracy.

J. L. Mahoney was nominated for congress on the first ballot by the popcratic convention held in Beloit today. The claims of C. W. Metsker to the nomination by virtue of his prophecying the democratic slump to free silver, received scant consideration.

General Edward S. Bragg, Wisconsin's fearless democratic champion of sound money and national honor, will speak in Janesville, on Wednesday evening, October 14. The fact that the former commander of the Iron Brigade is to talk from a Janesville platform, will be enough to draw out an immense crowd and good democrats—democrats who are democrats from belief and not from policy—will have a chance to hear a powerful statement of what real democracy is. General Bragg has always been a leader among Wisconsin democrats, and his advice to his fellow party men is as valuable now as it ever was. General Bragg refuses to turn his back on democracy and become a populist, and in his speech he will tell his reasons for "staying by the faith and his convictions."

Keep Quiet.

The news shows that violence of every kind, far from being smothered and abated, is aggravated by the extreme heat. Burglars caught in the act do not fly, but turn on those who have interrupted them and battle savagely. Suicides, not content with seeking the quiet of the beyond in a quiet fashion, rend themselves and rush in agony through the gates of death. Murderers do not kill speedily and hurry away, but linger to wreak an insane fury upon the corpses of their victims. And in acts of violence other than crimes the same exaggerated activity appears. Arguments hasten to fisticuffs, disputes are followed by frantic fights. Nothing is done in moderation. Yet never is there a time when moderation has such a speedy and certain reward. Remain perfectly quiet, without drink, or speech, or motion, and you will be delighted to note that the perspiration has ceased to flow and the bubbling temper has grown calm.—New York World.

DIVORCE IS GIVEN TO MRS. T. ULLIUS

SEPARATION SOUGHT AFTER TWENTY-THREE YEARS.

Husband Accused of Striking the Plaintiff and of Going to Germany Without Telling Her Anything About His Intentions—Wife Keeps the Farm.

Mrs. Therese Ullius who for the past twenty-three years has lived with her husband, Henry Ullius, was granted a divorce in the circuit court by Judge John R. Bennett on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Both parties are well known residents of La Prairie.

Mrs. Ullius testified that her husband had struck her and otherwise treated her without consideration. About a year ago he got up in the middle of the night, and without notifying her of his departure, he left for his former home in Germany, where he remained for a considerable time before his return.

Judge Bennett provided, in granting the divorce, that the farm is to remain in the possession of Mrs. Ullius, she having purchased the interest held by her husband. Fethers, Jeffris, Fifield & Mouat represented the interests of Mrs. Ullius.

Many Janesville people are interested in the report of W. E. Curtis, sent to Mexico by the Chicago Record to investigate the Mexican coinage system and its effects on workingmen. Mr. Curtis will study and report in an unprejudiced and impartial manner the effect of free coinage upon the natives, the business and the general condition of Mexico. PREVAILING MODES.

Trimmed Sailors—The Fashionable, Fluffy Hair In Loose Knots.

Many of the most up to date sailor hats have a sort of fence about the border—that is, the brim turns up squarely all around from one-fourth to three-fourths of an inch. This takes away something of the knife edge like rigidity which is the least desirable characteristic of sailor hats. Flowers, and especially fruit, are seen as a trimming, sparingly used, being usually placed in a small spray or cluster at the left side, with the ribbon bow. Geraniums are a favorite blossom this season, and both geranium and cherry red are largely worn.

In spite of the revival of old fashioned styles of hairdressing, few women are willing to adopt them in their entirety. The modern form of bandeau, for example, bears little resemblance to those worn by our grandmothers, for then extreme smoothness and glossiness were considered a fashionable necessity, while now lightness, fluffiness and artistic disorder are a feature of the period. Disorder and bandeaux are not appropriate companions, although they are now forced into an anomalous association. We read in ancient magazines of the difficulty experienced by belles in years agone in keeping their hair perfectly smooth and flat, but now the trouble is all the other way, and all sorts of devices are resorted to to avoid the effect once considered so desirable. The modern fashion of hairdressing is much more generally becoming if more troublesome and is not likely to change radically for a long time. Whether the hair is worn low or high depends entirely upon the style of the face, but fluffiness and a quasi classical knot are requisites. To produce the desired effect the hair all around the head is wound up on pins or pressed with tongs. It is then combed into lightness and twisted into a knot as loose as will stay in place.

Today's sketch shows a charming gown of willow green grosgrain, the skirt being arranged in panels which are separated by clusters of plaits of ivory linon. The top of the panels is embroidered in silver and black. The close bodice is similarly embroidered and opens back and front over a plaited plastron of ivory linon. A collarette forms a double jabot down the front. The sleeves are partly tight and are embroidered in silver and black, having frills of ivory linon at the wrists.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

USES OF DENIM.

Serviceable Goods For a Wide Variety of Purposes.

How many women realize the practical usefulness of denim? More, it is true, do so now than did formerly, for denim has this season composed a number of bicycle suits. But it is mainly devoted to upholstery and art embroidery, for which i is indeed very satisfactory. However, it is one of the best materials in the world for seaside and mountain outing costumes, especially in the indigo dye, for it is almost impossible to tear it, it is well nigh waterproof in ordinary circumstances, it is light in weight and yet opaque, and it has body enough to keep in shape without a lining. Very pretty as well as serviceable gowns may be made of it in blazer, Eton or norfolk style, to be worn with a light colored or white washable vest, tight or full. A tailor finish with white stitching is very effective, and large white buttons of bone or pearl form a pleasing addition. These costumes may be worn late in the fall in the country, as they are not characteristically summery. A denim skirt, with a shirt waist, forms a very useful warm weather costume also. If the denim becomes soiled in spots, it may be washed out with a sponge. Denim is also a serviceable floor covering in the heavy grades. The breadths are sewed together, and the whole thing is stretched and tacked down like dancing crash.

Awning cloth, which is much like denim in texture, is another useful and inexpensive fabric, but has of late years been entirely neglected save for the purpose which its name implies. A number of years ago it had a brief popularity as a dress fabric, being used in the striped variety, especially in blue and white, combined with solid colors in serge or thin flannel. As the costumes thus composed were very picturesque and becoming, as well as durable, it is to be hoped that this fashion will be among the many to be revived.

The costume illustrated is of broche silk in two tones of blue. The skirt is untrimmed. The figaro bodice is trimmed with bands of blue velvet, as is the lower part of the tight sleeves. The wide corselet is of blue velvet, and the chemisette, cravat and sleeve frills are of embroidered cream linon. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Mrs. Sage as a Speaker.

Mrs. Russell Sage is almost as prominent in feminine clubdom as her husband is in Wall street. She has become so used to addressing her sisters in various organizations on different subjects that her fame as a speaker has spread abroad.

In a recent speech Mrs. Sage paid a tribute to Emma Willard as a teacher. "Her visit to a class," said Mrs. Sage, "was an inspiration and a benediction. Her presence was queenly, made attractive through mingled dignity and courtesy. Her dress, in harmony with her character and the occasion, was appropriate, often elegant, always picturesque. No woman ever impressed me so deeply. She was never unmindful of the gracious courtesies of life, the 'lesser morals,' as some one terms them, which she so beautifully illustrated in her daily life."

An Enthusiast.

Agitate, agitate, for so you educate. On the suffrage question this is especially true. In the palmy days of the Farmers' Alliance, in a certain county of Arkansas, a few "crank" equal suffragists introduced into every county Alliance a resolution that woman should have the ballot. There was wild war against the creed—so new to many. But less than two years of such persistent work and the delegates to state and national conventions were instructed to favor an equal ballot for men and women. So wear your yellow ribbon, carry your three starred flag and talk suffrage every day.—Ozark (Ar..) Signal.

They Do Not.

Women entering upon the practice of law must expect no special favors not granted to men. The little pleasantries indulged in by court and clerks at the outset of their professional lives, giving them the precedence in hearing and opportunities for being seated when the men find no chairs available, must not deceive them into believing that the new profession will be wholly easy and a bed of roses. They will receive the same courtesies and stand the same worries as the men, and no one begrudges them success won at equal odds. —New York Jewish Messenger.

She Will Succeed.

Miss Clara Howard of California is in the University of California, ambitious to perfect herself as a philospher, a devoted student of Kant, with a very small income, which she increases by delivering newspapers. At first she was her own carrier and solicitor, but now she employs a number of small boys who deliver the papers, while she does the canvassing and collecting.

How Fame Came to Her.

Miss Rosaline Whyte has suddenly jumped into fame as an artist because it was she who made the design for the Princess Maud's wedding gown. Believing above all in simplicity, she made its only trimming a border of orange blossoms, jasmine and myrtle. Miss Whyte is quite a beginner, and was only recently graduated from the Royal Female School of Art.

The revival of the panniers is a style which will be becoming to two types of women. A slight figure will be wonderfully improved in appearance, and the overbroad woman by means of panniers can look exactly "comme il faut."

A new riding habit for fall wear is of bottle green ladies' cloth, with rather tight sleeves. The cuffs, collar and immense revers are all edged with neat gold braid and trimmed with tiny gilt buttons.

A little sperm oil or gum arabic added to boiled starch will be found to effect a great improvement when starched pieces come to be ironed. A little salt should always be put into the starch.

Pretty matchsafes may be made of two wineglasses hung in brass rings, crocheted over with silk floss, and suspended with baby ribbons to the hanging lamp.

Most of the canal barges in the south of England are worked by women.

Poison Ivy, insect bites, bruises, scalds, burns, are quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, the great pile cure. C. D. Stevens.

WOMEN are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people look youthful. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. All druggists keep the "Discovery."

JUDGES IN SCOTLAND.

Quaint Law Which Governed Their Elevation to the Bench.

From the Westminster Gazette: By an old act of the Scottish parliament the qualifications of a judge in Scotland are quaintly set out. He is to be "ane man that fearis God, of gude literature, practik, judgment and understanding of the lawes, of gude fame, havand sufficient living of his ain, and wha can make good expedition and dispatch of matters touching the lieges of the realm," and by a later statute the judge is to be at least 25 years of age. By the act of union writers to the signet of a certain standing are eligible for seats on the bench, as well as members of the faculty of advocates have always managed to retain the honor for themselves. The most curious circumstance connected with a new appointment is the probationary trials the nominee has to go through to show whether he is a fit and proper person. By an old rule of court he was required to sit three days with one of the puisness, and report on cases heard by him there to the inner house, i. e., the court of appeals, and then sit for one day in the inner house and give his opinion on the cases debated there. In one old case the court rejected a nominee as not being duly qualified, and in another instance they claimed to exercise the same power, which led to the passing of an act which provided that, even if the presentee is reported not to be qualified, the crown may insist on his admission. Nowadays, the "trials" occupy only a few hours; the lord probationer is invariably found qualified, and is at once transformed from an "apprentice" into a regular senator of the college of justice. All Scotch judges are entitled to be called "lord," but that does not confer on their wives the title of "lady," and this, in some instances, where the judge has taken a territorial title, has given rise to some misconstruction. It is said that a certain lord of sessions, who bore one of these territorial titles, accompanied by his wife, visited a south coast watering place, and inscribed his and his wife's names in the hotel book as "Lord X. and Mrs. Y." This brought the landlord upon the scene at once. "Beg your pardon, my lord," said he, "I fear you must find accommodations elsewhere; this is a respectable house." The use of these territorial designations was much more common in former days than now. Boswell's father, it may be remembered, was Lord Auchinleck. The practice, indeed, seemed to be dying out, when the old custom was recently resuscitated by Mr. Mackintosh and Mr. Gloag, who occupy seats on the bench with the titles Lord Kyllachy and Lord Kincairney respectively.

It would not do to say how long she had had it. She had won it at a fair, where for some unknown reason—perhaps for the good of the cause—she had had several "guesses" on the great, heavily frosted cake. It is such a wonder to win anything for which chances are bought that the cake came as a great surprise, and then its great size appealed to her housewifely soul. Rich fruit cake, with that bardlike frosting, would keep indefinitely. It was put safely away and from time to time she gazed at it with wondering admiration. Finally the propitious moment arrived—an event of sufficient importance to warrant the cutting of so great a cake. She would allow no one to lift it but herself, notwithstanding its great weight. She put her hands on either side and braced her muscles to the task. The great cake came up with the lightness of a down pillow. The house of frosting was an empty shell. There were boys in the family, and they, too, had gazed with admiring, but not such self-sacrificing eyes at the great cake. Only a crumb or two had been taken at first, then a little more and a little more as a realization of its virtues grew upon the youthful palates, until only the frosted shell, still in perfect condition, remained—a deceitful semblance of something that was not.

Americans Are Wasteful.

Colonel Waring of the street cleaning commission in New York has found upon investigation that material that sells on an average for $700,000,000 every year is carried to the dumps. In the first place there are thrown away 200,000 pounds of rags every week worth 60 cents per 100 pounds, an item aggregating $73,632 a year. There are besides 45,000 pounds of grease per week, worth $1.10 per 100 pounds, and figuring a value of 25,797 a year. Then there are unburned coal, metals and a great variety of more or less valuable things, a part of which is intercepted by garbage pickers, but a greater part of which is thrown into the sea. That garbarge worth $700,000,000 a year should be thus thrown to the winds in a city where thousands suffer from stinted resources, is a sort of prodigality that naturally startles overcrowded Europe.—Boston Globe.

Traveling Military Crematory.

A traveling military crematory has been invented to dispose of bodies of soldiers killed in battle. It looks like much like an army oven on a large scale, and is drawn by eight horses. The inventor is a Polish engineer, and claims that this arrangement would obviate any epidemic arising from the burial of many bodies in one place during a campaign. Germany—ever in the van of military innovation—proposes to test the invention.

For sprains apply cloths wrung out of very hot water until the inflammation and pain have subsided. For black and blue spots an ounce of muriate of ammonia to a pint of lukewarm water makes a good application to be kept on constantly.

SHAKERS AND DOCTORS TALK TOGETHER.

In his able work entitled "Longevity," published a few years ago, Dr. John Gaidner, of England, predicts that a vegetable agent will yet be found that will so retard those changes that bring about old age as to prolong human life much beyond its present limit. Acting, perhaps, upon the impulse produced by this thought, many eminent physicians have called from time to time upon the Shakers of Mt. Lebanon to inquire of them concerning the secrets of medicinal plants, in which these sincere, simple minded and God-fearing people are known to be wise and skillful beyond all other men.

The Shakers willingly told what they had learned, and in return had received from their visitors much valuable information about disease; which they at once made practical use of. The most important point was that if a genuine and certain remedy could be found for indigestion and dyspepsia, and the ailments growing out of it, a long step would be taken in the right direction. Old age, said these physicians, begins in a failure of the digestion, and so do most diseases at any and all periods of life. The result of these consultations was the discovery by the Shakers of the desired specific, made wholly from herbs, and now known as the Shaker Digestive Cordial Its action is magical and worthy of its origin.

When there is distress after eating, heart-burn, sick headache, bad taste in the mouth, biliousness, weakness or weariness, cold hands and feet, aversion to food, nervousness, or any other symptom of dyspepsia, the Cordial will prove its curative virtues. Behind it is the reputatiod of a people who have never defrauded or deceived their fellow men.

In order to test whether this remedy is adapted to your case, at practically no cost, you may procure a trial bottle for ten cents of all druggist.

Honor the New Battleship.

New York, Sept. 22.—Gov. Claud Matthews, ex-President Harrison and about seventy-five prominent citizens of Indiana went on board the United States battleship Indiana, lying off Tompkinsville, S. I., Monday. The visitors were welcomed on board the Indiana by Capt. Robley D. Evans, Admiral Bunce and others. The purpose of the visit of this delegation of westerners to the finest of the nation's ships of war was to present to its officers the silver service and library that the citizens of Indiana have provided for the craft named in honor of the state they represent. Gov. Matthews made the presentation speech, to which, on behalf of Capt. Evans and the officers and men of the Indiana, Assistant Secretary of the Navy McAdoo responded. Ex-President Harrison also spoke.

Will Reclaim 200,000 Acres.

Michigan City, Ind., Sept. 22.—The organization of the Kankakee River improvement association, having for its purpose the reclamation of 100,000 acres of land in the Kankakee swamp region, has been followed by the organization of a company of Chicago land owners, articles of incorporation being filed Saturday, to take up the work in the counties adjacent to those in which Indiana capital will operate. The capital available insures the straightening of the river to the Illinois state line. The Illinois company expects to reclaim 200,000 acres in the Kankakee valley.
